And burst the founts of bitterness. PROGRESS OF INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION.

To breathe in unison a prayer ? Ah! there are sorrows all may feel, But sorrews such as few will tell; They pierce into the heart like steel, And chain its utterance by their spell,

Save when the world in darkness lies,

And power is born of loneliness; Then then they from their prison rise,

Fourier Association. At a meeting held in Meadville, April 1st, 1845, by a large number of citizens, it was resolved to form an industrial Association for united partnerform an Industrial Association for united partnership labor, of Farmers and Mechanics, to be located in Athens township, Crawford County, Pa. where 1,000 acres, or more, with a good title, and sufficient time of payment, can be had on fair terms, including Mills, Mill seats, plenty of pine tripber, and a large farm, the present spring, to be called the ATHENS UNION, and the following named persons were appointed a Board of Officers and Manseers for that purposes: gers for that purpose:

SAMUEL S. TORBET, Secretary. Amos Pearson, Bailey Courtney, Samuel S. Torbet, Bargilla Goodrich, Dr. Wm. Woodruff, Stafford Reydeur. After which a Constitution was considered an adopted; and it was then resolved to publish the following

ADDRESS.

ADDRESS.

The Board of Managers, in presenting this Address, will but briefly notice a few of the motives to, and benefits to be derived from an associated system of combined labor, and their view of its moral, social, and political tendencies.

It has been supposed that for some years the general sentiment of mankind has been slowly tending towards the encouragement of a state of peace among the nations of the earth, and consequently we suppose men would view with some interest, and among the nations of the earth, and consequently, we suppose men would view with some interest, and examine with attention any plan that is likely, or that proposes to remove or lessen the causes, and in so far, the corrupting evils and revolting horrors of war. — Put till lately they seem not to have looked at the true remedy, nor considered that a spirit of peace must be cherished and first take root among individuals, and small societies, and then we may hope it will in time become national.

On this subject, nothing has come within our view, and we believe nothing has been said or attempted, so likely to promote and spread the principles of peace and harmony as the formation and encouragement of formers. Associations: for both their theory and practice strike at the root of warfare and of war, and in proportion as they previal. " wars and lightings will cease."

Whoever will glance at the present social system, and the general and long established mode of conducing business, which has little to recommend it but its antiquity—the warfare between capital and labor, in which the former always succeeds—a system which has sprung from, or in the first advances of civilization been gratted on the ancient war system of master and slave, will at ancient war system of master and slave, will at once perceive, that as a general thing, all the affairs of the world, and the interests and intercourse among men, is little else than a perpetual warfare sacrient war system of unsert and slave, will at one preceived, and its forcures and one preceived, but are in increased and its forcure and example for property, by any trans. that he is a contract and the property of the property. And to enable mean not merely on the property. And to enable mean not merely on the property. And to enable mean not merely on the property. And to enable mean not merely on the property. And to enable mean not merely on the property. And to enable mean not merely on the property. And the enable mean not merely on the property. And the enable mean not merely on the property. And the enable mean not merely on the property. And the enable mean not merely on the property. And the enable mean not merely on the property. And the enable mean not merely on the property. And the enable mean not merely on the property. And the enable mean not merely on the property. And the enable mean not merely on the property. And the enable mean not merely on the property. And the enable mean not merely on the property of the prope

fock, which they can keep or sell, and can leave if they choose.

Persons putting in property, stock, tools, &c., can retain the ownership of them until they see whether they shall choose to continue; and if they leave, will be entitled to what they have earned.

We are now ready to receive the names of those who may wish to enter this Association; and those who may apply at Barton's Hotel, Meadville.

The score rice better.

Any letters were selled. The sooner the better. Any letters, post paid, addressed to E. Felton, or to the President of the Athens Union, Meadville, will be attended to SAM'L. S. TORBET, Secretary.

HIGHWAY ROBERTY.—Last evening, a man was knocked down in Commercial street, and robbed of his watch and his wallet, containing 30 or 40 dollars. There were three ruffians engaged in the robbert, two of whom hield his arms while the third searched his peckets, and broke his guard-chain. His outcries were heard by some persons near, who caught one of the men as the three were running away.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—Mr. Enos Tomlin, a resident of Goshes, Cape May county, in climbing a fence on his lands, on Tuesday last, fell scross the top rall, and was so much injured that he died in a few hours after.
